Arbor Day Hymn

First verse

Joy for the study trees,
Fanned by each fragrant breeze,
Lovely they stand!
The songbirds o'er them trill;
They shade each tinkling rill;
They crown each swelling hill;
Lowly or grand.

Samuel F. Smith, author of "My Country Tis of Thee", sung to the same tune.

THANK YOU FOR SUPPORTING OUR MISSION

It is YOU our community that enables us to care for those with cancer and related illnesses in our community. We are grateful for all the support and are honored that you trust us to do our best to provide in-home skilled nursing care for our patients and those who need our assistance. A special thank you to Van's Medical Equipment for picking up, cleaning and delivering our durable medical equipment as a courtesy to BCCS in support of our community!

Current STAR GIVERS

We've had some awesome business STAR GIVERS recently:

- First Presbyterian Church of Niles – Thank you to the Mission and Outreach Team
- Lighthouse Attic Resale Shop – Thank you for your gift and the many hours that volunteers spend to be able to give gifts to community organizations.

SUPPORT GROUPS

Due to social distancing requirements and facility restrictions, support groups for St. Joseph and Niles are cancelled until further notice. However, that does not mean that there is not support for those with cancer. There are a large variety of online cancer support groups with some groups being general and covering all cancer diagnoses while others are specific to a particular diagnosis. A few websites to get started with are cancercare.org, cancerhopenetwork.org, and cancersupportcommunity.org.

The BCCS Frederick S. Upton Foundation Challenge Grant starts again this month!

We were excited to be awarded a two-year $10,000 grant ($5,000 per year) in 2020 for our loan closet, patient nutrition needs, and assistance for nurses traveling to patient homes. Thanks to you, we matched our first $5,000 challenge for 2020! Our second portion of the challenge to match has started! We need to match another $5,000 for 2021!

From the Desk of Nancy Church, RN

He dazzled us with his triple axels, camel spins, double jumps, theatrical instincts, and his signature backflips. He stood out from the rest with his beaming smile and bubbly personality. We were so proud of him with the Gold Olympic metal hanging around his neck in 1984. Many of you will remember that moment and have guessed that this is Scott Hamilton. Many skaters hang up their skates after that pinnacle moment, but not Scott. Scott was different...there had been so many obstacles in his life leading up to this point. At age 2, his adoptive parents noticed he was not growing like other children. After several misdiagnoses, it was determined that he was not absorbing nutrients and a special feeding liquid was given to him. He hated liquid so much that he agreed to having a tube placed down his nose and at 9 years old, followed his sister to the ice rink one day and found his calling. His dad later told a Sports Illustrated reporter, "That frail little kid with the tube running across his cheek turned and said, 'You know, I think I'd like to try skating.'"

Skating became his passion and increased his strength and endurance so that by age 13, he started to compete. Financial burdens forced him to leave the ice in 1976, but his mother's death from cancer a year later had a big impact on him then he received a sponsorship that enabled him to return to the ice with a new drive to succeed. He finished 5th in the 1980 Olympics, won several World Champion titles as well as gold at the 1984 Olympics. From there he toured the professional skating world, co-founded Stars on Ice, and provided expert analysis during televised competition. While Scott has a very inspirational story, what does this have to do with April Cancer Awareness Month? Scott's life changed in 1997 when his severe shooting pain in his lower back and abdomen was diagnosed as testicular cancer. This disease strikes over 9,000 U.S. males each year, most often those age 15-44. It is often treatable and fortunately for Scott, the chemotherapy sent the cancer into full remission. Again, in Scott Hamilton style, he returned to skating and shared his story with the world. Since then, he has had 3 benign pituitary tumors, which unlocked the mystery to his early childhood lack of growth and thriving.

But, Scott's story doesn't stop with his overcoming tremendous health challenges to rise to athletic greatness. His passion to make a difference in the lives of others is his greatest story. Over the years, he's been involved with numerous charities; Make-A-Wish Foundation, Special Olympics, St. Jude's Children's Hospital, just to name a few. In 2014, he founded the Scott Hamilton CARES Foundation to fund advanced research that treats the cancer while sparing the patient.

One of Scott's newest ventures to encourage people is called Live Your Days and can be found at liveyourdays.com. To quote Scott, "It's a call to live, fully live, your days. To not letting day after day pass by, just going through the monotony of life. It's a challenge, but one that resets each morning. It is simple, but not easy. And ultimately, it guides the choices that make each day matter. And days that matter turn into extraordinary lives."

I hope that you have been inspired by Scott's story as much as I have and to recognize each day as precious and one to be embraced. And by the way, maybe I'll start his Live Your Days 30-Day Challenge today.
